Speaker and Tour: February 19 and 26, Ed Holzapfel and Rob Taylor of PF Custom Countertops

We had a very interesting presentation about PF Custom Countertops, given by Ed Holzapfel and Rob Taylor. Ed is one of the two owners, along with his brother. Rob is the manager of stone operations. The following week about 24 members met at the facility.

Ed Holzapfel starts off our tour in the company's showroom.

Ed's father started the company in 1969, using a process to bind the materials to produce a countertop with a one-piece backsplash.

A worker in the laminated countertop production area finishes the edges on a kitchen countertop.

In 2010 the company expanded to include fabrication of various types of stone counter tops.

Using a combination of high-pressure water and grit, this machine cuts through a stone slab.
