Presentation: November 19, Leah Kudel

Our guest speaker was Leah Kudel, an artist who works in glass. She spoke to us about her love of glass as an artistic medium – its colour, malleability and range of products. She presented us with a slide show to illustrate where she had worked and learned around the world.

Leah shows how to work with molten glass in this photo. She also told us of her plans to open her own glass studio in Edmonton next summer. Classes will be available for anyone who is interested.

Tour: December 3, Alberta Court Room, Justice Robert A Graesser

On our tour of December 3rd Justice Graesser, who spoke to us in October, acted as our guide on our visit to the Alberta Law Courts in Winston Churchill Square.

He told us about the layout of the building, what different courts were used for, and plans for future expansion. He also had a number of stories to tell of the exploits of previous judges (all stories anonymous of course). All in all, it was a very interesting tour, with a gracious host.

Christmas Lunch: December 10

The EKOS signers

Our annual Christmas Luncheon, which included a lovely buffet, entertainment by the EKOS singers, and prizes to some of our lucky members was held at the Royal Mayfair on December 10.
